Hamanaka Bonny wool—made of 100% acrylic—has been a best-seller for its high quality since 1963. The secret to the success behind this wool is Hamanaka's unique blend of various acrylic fibers, and the company's unwavering commitment to quality. No effort is spared in Hamanaka's reliable Aclaine production system at Hamanaka's Hobbile factory, where its greatest technological achievements are brought to life.

Hamanaka Hobbile Co., Ltd. (Miyazaki)

Hamanaka's High-Quality Wool Proudly made in Japan

Hamanaka is dedicated fully to maintaining a constant high quality for its wool. That is why all our wool is processed in Japan.

1. Carefully selected high-quality wool for better handling and a more refined finish. All wool products are ethically sourced from non-mulesed flocks of sheep.

3. All of Hamanaka's wool is made in Japan to ensure only the highest quality.
4. Extensive wool cultivation knowledge garnered over years of making yarns and materials for various uses.

Did you know that there are thousands of types of wool?

Each type has a unique color and texture, and each must be handled differently. With such a wide variety of wools to work with, Hamanaka has spent the last 50 years working with wool through its yarns.

The various skills and experience cultivated through this familiarity comprise the very core of Hamanaka's greatest treasures. Hamanaka's own felt wool was developed directly as a result of those skills and experience.
